Occupational Therapy Faculty Position
University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center
Department of Rehabilitation Sciences, College of Allied Health
Innovation in Client-Centered, Evidence-based Curriculum, delivered in an Interprofessional Distance Education Model

A unique opportunity is available for an exceptional occupational therapist who is interested in becoming a part of the academic environment, or for established educators interested in further honing their teaching and scholarship skills. This 12-month position involves teaching with coordination of occupational therapy courses, research and scholarship associated with areas of expertise, clinical practice, and service at multiple levels of the institution and community.

Occupational Therapist with earned post-professional doctoral degree required. Record of publications and research agenda or equivalent qualification, and 3-5 years of professional practice experience is preferred. Successful graduate teaching with a commitment to interprofessional learning and active involvement in professional associations preferred. Licensed or eligible for licensure in Oklahoma. Rank and salary are commensurate with qualifications and experience for this full-time position with the option of tenure or non-tenure track.

Our academic programs, research, clinical practice, and community outreach initiatives thrive in the richness of being located on two campuses, the Schusterman Center in Tulsa and the Health Sciences Center in Oklahoma City. The OUHSC Strategic plan for research includes cancer, diabetes, neuroscience/vision, and infectious disease/immunology. More information about OUHSC is available at www.ouhsc.edu.

You would join a well-rounded, established occupational therapy faculty of excellence in an entry-level MOT program that shares basic science and general habilitation and rehabilitation content with a Doctorate of Physical Therapy program.
