

JOHN W. KEYS SPEECH AND HEARING CENTER

Evaluating & Treating Pediatric Speech and Language Disorders

Located in the College of Allied Health on the University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center Campus, the John W. Keys Speech and Hearing Center translates the latest research in pediatric communication disorders into clinical practice.

Our mission is to provide an optimum environment for student education, research, and consultation; high quality professional diagnostics and therapeutic services, and educational/service opportunities for the community.

SPEECH SOUND DISORDERS & LANGUAGE DISORDERS

- All Ages
- Speech sound disorders
- Childhood apraxia of speech (CAS)
- Receptive and expressive language disorders
- Social Language

TELE THERAPY

- Services provided to rural school district with no access to SLP
- Individual services for those clients unable to travel/meet in person

CENTRAL AUDITORY

PROCESSING DISORDERS

- Evaluate six years old to adult
- Testing emphasizes language processing, phonological awareness skills, auditory memory, oral language and written language, and reading comprehension. Includes information about school performance. Recommendations for accommodations.
- Therapy addresses areas of weaknesses identified in evaluation

FLUENCY DISORDERS

- All ages
- Individual sessions

AUTISM SPECTRUM DISORDERS (ASD)

- Individual therapy sessions
- Access to AAC
- Behavioral and sensory

ILEAP PRESCHOOL

- Ages 2.5 to 4 years old
- Language class and Autism class
- Communication development
- Behavioral challenges
- Interprofessional collaboration
- Call for more information

Contact Information

Address:

1200 N Stonewall Ave
College of Allied Health
Oklahoma City, OK 73117

For Information Or To Schedule Appointments:

Phone: (405) 271-2866

JOHN W. KEYS SPEECH AND HEARING CENTER: Treating Pediatric Speech and Language Disorders

The John W. Keys Speech and Hearing Center translates the latest research in pediatric communication disorders into clinical practice. Graduate interns evaluate and treat patients under the direct supervision of the clinical educators with the following areas of special interest:

MONA RYAN, MS, CCC-SLP, ASHA Fellow, received her BS from OSU and MS in Speech Pathology from OUHSC. She serves as the SLP Clinical Coordinator. She is responsible for coordinating off-site clinical placements as well as assignments in the Keys Clinic. She is a Clinical Associate Professor providing clinical education for graduate students in pediatric speech and language disorders as well as pediatric and adult diagnostics. She teaches undergrad and graduate courses. Mona worked for 18 years in the public schools before coming to OUHSC. She currently serves as the President of the Oklahoma Speech-Language-Hearing Association, and serves as an accreditation site visitor.

BETH LANE MA, CCC-SLP: Beth Lane has 29 years experience in the public schools before she began at OUHSC in 2019. She is Co-Director of the iLEAP (interprofessional Language Enrichment and Pre-Kindergarten), assistant clinical professor and clinical educator. Her special interest is working with young children who have autism spectrum disorder (ASD) and early identification of children at risk of having ASD.

JESSICA LATHEM: Jessica Lathem, MA, CCC-SLP, received an MA in Speech Pathology from the University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center. She has previous experience working in public schools and private clinics. She is a member of the American Speech Language Hearing Association, and the Oklahoma Speech Language Hearing Association, where she previously served on the Executive Council as Councilor-at-Large. She currently works as a clinical educator and Co-Director of the iLEAP preschool program.

MARY ELIZABETH YOUNG MA, CCC-SLP received her BA and MA in Speech Pathology from the University of Tennessee. She began her SLP career in medical settings, before transitioning to the public schools. Mary Elizabeth has provided services in school districts in South Carolina, Tennessee, and Oklahoma. She works as a clinical educator at OUHSC, coordinating teletherapy services for Central High Public Schools.