

POSITION ANNOUNCEMENT

The University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center (OUHSC) is seeking a Clinical Assistant Professor, CCC/SLP; M.A., M.S., or Doctorate; for a full-time, 12-month, limited term faculty appointment in Speech-Language Pathology (SLP) within the Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders (CSD) in the College of Allied Health. This individual will provide clinical supervision of graduate SLP interns, provide direct patient care within the John W. Keys Speech and Hearing Center, and participate in the academic missions of the department. This faculty member will report to the CSD Department Chair and will have service and teaching responsibilities, the latter to include teaching two to three didactic courses per year in the department's undergraduate and/or graduate programs. Supervision, patient care, and teaching assignments will depend on the applicant's background and area(s) of expertise. Applicants must have completed at least three years of successful work experience and either possess, or be eligible for, SLP licensure in Oklahoma. Expertise with Autism Spectrum Disorders in children, experience in clinical supervision, and a record of successful academic teaching are preferred. Applicants should possess excellent communication, team-building, problem-solving, and leadership skills. Date of hire is contingent upon the University's verification of credentials and other information required by State law and University policies, and pre-employment screening, including completion of a criminal history background check; the position will remain open until filled. Salary is negotiable with an excellent benefits package. Qualified applicants should send a letter of application, including a statement of interest and description of professional experience and career goals, along with a curriculum vitae (CV) and three current letters of recommendation to Dr. Sarah Buckingham, SLP Program Coordinator and Search Committee Chair, Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders, College of Allied Health, The University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center, 1200 N. Stonewall Ave., Oklahoma City, Oklahoma 73117. Inquiries and emailed submissions are accepted at: sarah-buckingham@ouhsc.edu. The University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. Individuals with disabilities and protected veterans are encouraged to apply.