

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR, Speech–Language Pathology

Full-time, consecutive-term appointment for a 12-month position available immediately at the University of Oklahoma Health Sciences (OUHS) in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS:

Required qualifications include an earned PhD degree in Speech–Language Pathology or related field, evidence of successful university teaching, potential for a productive research program, and excellent interpersonal, outreach, and communication skills.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS:

Preferred qualifications include didactic and clinical teaching experience and an interest in interprofessional health education. Preferred areas of research include fluency, speech sound disorders, and speech & hearing science. Candidates with evidence of the ability to secure external grant funding, mentor graduate student research, and engage in collaborative research at a large, comprehensive health center are strongly encouraged to apply. Clinical credentials are optional.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

The primary responsibilities of this position include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Teach didactic courses in the MA–SLP program
- Supervision of or consultation with MA–SLP students in the clinic
- Conduct research in area of expertise
- Mentor UG and MA–SLP students in research activities
- Contribute to university, college, department, and program committees

HOW TO APPLY:

Applicants should apply online at:

<http://apply.interfolio.com/148700>

For more Information contact:

Jennifer Tetnowski

(405) 271-4214

jennifer-tetnowski@ouhsc.edu

UNIVERSITY AND PROGRAM INFORMATION:

The Department of CSD is part of the College of Allied Health at OUHS in Oklahoma City. The College of Allied Health is one of seven colleges on the OUHS campus. Housed within College, the John W. Keys Speech and Hearing Center is administered by the Department of CSD and serves as important research and interprofessional clinical training site for students in the department's and college's academic programs. To learn more about clinical programs, please visit our website at <https://alliedhealth.ouhsc.edu/Keys-Clinic>.

The department's professional preparation programs in speech–language pathology and in audiology are nationally accredited by the Council on Academic Accreditation in Audiology and in Speech–Language Pathology. To learn more about the department, please visit our website at <https://alliedhealth.ouhsc.edu/Departments/Communication-Sciences-and-Disorders>.

Opportunities for interprofessional collaboration, research, and teaching are numerous on campus and at the nearby universities and hospitals in the region's major metropolitan areas. The University of Oklahoma's main campus is located in nearby Norman, OK. To learn more about the OUHS and the College of Allied Health, please visit our websites at <http://www.ouhsc.edu> and at <https://alliedhealth.ouhsc.edu/>

Oklahoma City (OKC) is a beautiful, friendly, and vibrant metropolitan community with a metro area population surpassing 1 million. To learn more about OKC and its surrounding communities, visit the Greater OKC Chamber of Commerce website at <https://www.okcchamber.com>

The University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center is an equal opportunity employer that, in compliance with all applicable federal and state laws and regulations, does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, age, religion, disability, political beliefs, or status as a veteran in any of its policies, practices, or procedures. This includes but is not limited to admissions, employment, financial aid, and educational services.

COLLEGE OF ALLIED HEALTH
The UNIVERSITY of OKLAHOMA HEALTH SCIENCES