POWER OF ATTORNEY

As you think about the future, it’s natural to want the same security for your pets that you want for yourself. Many older adults in Oklahoma are choosing to put legal plans in place so their animals are never left without care during a medical emergency, a long hospital stay, or a period of incapacity. A Power of Attorney can be an important part of that planning. In Oklahoma, you can give someone you trust the legal authority to step in and make decisions about your animals’ daily care, veterinary needs, and long-term placement if you’re unable to do so. Understanding the difference between a General Power of Attorney and a Durable Power of Attorney helps you choose the option that ensures your animals remain safe, supported, and cared for no matter what life brings. A General Power of Attorney gives someone you trust the ability to help with certain tasks while you are still fully able to make your own decisions. In contrast, a Durable Power of Attorney continues to work even if you become ill or unable to manage things yourself, making it the stronger choice for long-term planning and ensuring your animals are cared for no matter what happens.

GO BAG

A pet emergency go-bag is a small, easy-to-carry kit that holds the essential items your pet would need if you had to leave home quickly. It keeps everything in one place so you can grab it fast during storms, fires, evacuations, or medical emergencies. Having a ready-to-go pet kit helps ensure your pet stays safe, fed, and calm. It ensures you can evacuate more quickly and confidently and that caregivers or first responders can help your pet if you become injured or separated.
